

video:LINK

Telecommunication services for your business

- video conference calls in Full HD quality on computers and mobile devices
- share multimedia content during a video conferencing calls
- record, archive and export video conferencing calls

Save time and costs with efficient video conferencing

Your employees no longer have to travel for conferences and are free to use the time and cost savings in more effective ways. The video:LINK video conferencing system is the perfect aid for your business when handling negotiations with business partners, operational communication between branches and regular team meetings involving individuals at different sites.

What does video:LINK provide?

- video:LINK is a high performance cloud video conferencing solution that uses a client - server model provided in the form of computer, notebook computer, smartphone and tablet applications or special equipment installed directly in your video conferencing room or space
- video:LINK accommodates an unlimited number of user accounts and can connect up to five devices to a single account. The Ring All function ensures that all devices ring at the same time when a call is incoming. The service also features a user-friendly interface for inviting new parties into a video conference call and easily transitions from a simple call between two parties simply by adding a new contact

- the core of the video:LINK solution is the interoperable LifeSize UVC platform, which can be scaled to meet current needs and provides a high level of security through integrated NAT/Firewall encryption functions
- video:LINK can broadcast and receive live video conferencing calls and record video in HD Quality from anywhere in the world; on top of that it can also record and archive your meetings
- video:LINK is a cost-effective video conferencing solution that can be deployed on anywhere from just a few computers to much larger groups, meaning you only have to purchase what you really need to-day and later can easily expand the number of users or devices as the needs of your growing company change

Advantages

- proven and reliable system that is used worldwide
- cost-effective and flexible solution
- secure encrypted communication
- unlimited number of user accounts
- simple to use with archiving capabilities
- continuous 24/7 surveillance

slovanet.sk/biznis

